PRESENT CHALLENGE

Accepting that your larger life goal is to grow in grace and find union with all living things.

You have drawn this Rejuvenation card because you may be weary of challenging life and long to have things in your life flow more easily toward love and success.

You may have spent years learning a spiritual discipline, or you may be new to spirituality. In either case you are facing a subtle but powerful spiritual challenge, one requiring you to trust your belief in the God within and to allow the beauty and intensity of this connection to smooth your path in the physical world.

ANGELIC MESSAGE

Change

Change, when it is lived as a sacred process, portends spiritual transformation. All levels of change, no matter how slight or how deeply penetrating or disruptive, have something to show you about your belief in the wisdom of your teachers, masters, and the angelic messengers who sweep through your daily lives. Change wakes you up to life as the spiritual process that it is. Change is different from chance, because change is intended to bring you continually closer to God, while chance is purely the random movement of physical energy. Through change you, like an abundance of flowering blossoms, merge with the wisdom mind of God. You are continually offered the insight and ability to accept the angels drawn to you to heal the fear, pain, and anxiety that separate you from loving yourself as a divine aspect of the God-force.

Change is upsetting because the unknown has no discernible texture, no familiar faces, no assurances of success. When you are unable to ascertain what is coming into your life through the mist of change, it is easy and natural to be afraid. This fear, however, can create an impenetrable barrier to the divine love surging toward convergence into your life. Through change you can come to accept that life on physical Earth is brief and that your journey is always to gaze toward the Divine and to learn of your true divinity. When you feel frightened by life, it helps to understand that you are choosing between a belief in a loving, divine Providence and the randomness of chance happening. Whatever comes to you can be a significant opportunity for spiritual growth, whether it was intended as that or not. Your larger life goal is to grow in grace and to find union with the divine Presence through love.

SPIRITUAL OPPORTUNITY

The guidance coming to you through this image of flowers is to take heart and believe in the significance of the changes taking place in your life. The blossoms, some open and some still closed, speak to the ongoing texture of your life in which some aspects will be known and others will remain elusive. You can also accept that even though not all your life experiences are positive, they all ultimately have a positive resolution. The brilliant white blossoms tell you that all life is created in God's image and that a spiritual value rests in all of your experiences, even those that are painful.

Your spirit is tireless in its loving support and prodding of your life in order to help you move out of your own way so you can find the love you seek. You incarnated into this life to learn and accept the continually changing nature of your life as preparation for the continually changing nature of your eternal reality: life, to death, to merger with the Divine, to life, to death, and again to merger with the Divine.

Your heart or inner mind urges you to give, share, cooperate, love, value, and honor other living things because these are the qualities offered by a loving heart and an awakened spirit. When you are afraid that accepting the present changes in your life will bring you greater pain, fear, loss, or poverty, consider that the opposite is more likely true. Consider that to avoid accepting change and learning from it will produce these undesirable outcomes.

APPLICATION

Think about the changes that you feel are taking shape in the spiritual currents of your life. Are you coming to the realization that, on a deep level, an important relationship is over or shifting in some way, or that you must release your children to their own learning and get on with your life, or that you need to change jobs or life work or to give up some self-defining way of life?

Make a list of these impending changes, and quietly, in each morning's meditation, place your hand over this list and imagine that a brilliant, divine light allows God's loving current to flow through you and out of your hand to bring positive and life-enhancing resolutions to these changes.
