

27

Commitment

PRESENT CHALLENGE

Willingly accepting the spirit of your life purpose even when it has no physical form.

You have drawn this card to reaffirm your belief in yourself and your ability to fulfill your purpose even when your mission remains at the spiritual level and without obvious physical form.

You are being guided to awaken a more balanced perspective in your life by expanding your capacity to hold love in your heart so that other people and living things may heal. You are being asked to accept that in this lifetime your mission may not be obvious or take physical form and yet is essential to the evolution of the planet and humanity. You are being alerted to hold the intentions of love, justice, faith, compassion, and kindness in your heart so that others may be able to more easily accept these spiritual qualities into their own lives.

ANGELIC MESSAGE

Commitment

Because you are physical, and your environment is physical, it seems realistic to expect that your means of helping and being of service will also take some physical form. This is not always an accurate assessment. Sometimes you incarnate to be specifically of spiritual service alone. If this is true for your life and you've been unable to find an obvious or consistent means of offering your value to others, you may wonder if you're doing something wrong or if you're out of the range of God's love.

Commitment

27

You may have chosen in this lifetime to pursue a purely spiritual means of service in order to test your belief in yourself and the Universe, knowing that in this way you were to finally find the true nature of your worth. You may also have chosen this means of intangible spiritual service because you accepted the challenge of holding the presence of love on the Earth so that others could find it more easily. This purpose is that of the ultimate healer. You may be living love quietly, offering love to others, and learning to find and/or accept love in return. In accepting that you are not meant to find one specific tangible means of service at this time, or even for this lifetime, you will be more able to allow your love to flow into many forms that give you pleasure.

If you are a person who has chosen an intangible means of service, then some of the following aspects to your life will have been true. You may have tried many jobs/careers/or challenges, and even though you were good at them you felt as if you were to do something else. You may have experienced a profound sense of love with a specific person in your life, and then that person died, or left, or you became separated from her or him. Your life may not have turned out the way you imagined it would, and yet you have many friends, and people seem to gravitate toward you to tell you their problems and seek counsel. You may often feel lonely spiritually, as if you have a large hole in your heart. You may be deeply affected by the daily news of trauma to animals, children, indigenous people, or others who seem defenseless.

If many of these conditions fit your life, then you can benefit from accepting that you are a teacher of love in this lifetime, you are a holder of the spiritual balance on the Earth so that human evolution can proceed more easily.

SPIRITUAL OPPORTUNITY

The guidance coming to you through this flower is suggesting that your life is a direct reflection of the Divine presence. The gentle purple essence of these blossoms tells you that your life is based on spiritual qualities even if these are not presently in any obvious form. Two flower blossoms are in this image, and they lie directly opposite each other. The flower blossom that is on the bottom symbolically represents you seeking God. The flower blossom on the top represents God and the angelic teachers radiating love to you. The guidance through this card is that you are being asked to commit your full attention toward the living of your spirituality, because this is to be your means of service.

APPLICATION

Try observing the ways in which you do reflect love into people's lives. What have friends or family asked you to help with? In what way are you steadily balancing and encouraging others to honor their true feelings and to be honest with their spiritual path for this lifetime? When you observe yourself living as God's agent of love, you reinforce your worth and importance, committing your life fully to this important work.

Write out your own definition of divine love that is your credo. Create a simple meditation/prayer that you can use to encourage yourself in sharing love with others even when they are unable to thank you or return the favor.