

A WILD CARD

Divine Guidance

PRESENT CIRCUMSTANCE

Opening your heart to love through direct experience with God and the angelic kingdom.

You have drawn this God-realization card because something significant and profoundly meaningful will further awaken you to the reality of the Divine in your life.

Expect that over the next several days you will be directly guided by the Universe. If you pay attention, you will have a significant realization of the heavenly kingdoms. You may perceive God's closeness in your life through an especially meaningful poem, reading, or vision. You may encounter the energy or spirit of a loved one who has died and wishes to share something with you. You may have an actual glimpse or perception of your angels, guides, or master teachers in a way that furthers your belief in the nonphysical world and in your own everlasting connection.

ANGELIC MESSAGE Divine Guidance

Specific periods of spiritual opening occur at special moments throughout life. These moments are unique in that they draw you through the normal frustrations and contradictions toward acceptance of your loving relationship with the Universe:

You have entered such a time stream and are encouraged to open your inner eye as well as your outer vision, for you are being shown directly that you are loved eternally and that all is well at the spiritual level of your life. Pay attention to the subtleties of changes and events over the next few days. Allow yourself to be on alert to feeling a closer presence with God. No matter your past experiences or your immediate life path, you may be needing to understand at the heart level that you are on your spiritual path toward God-awareness.

We, your angelic teachers, ask you to accept that you are one energy with God and that your long-term best interests are always being considered. You may be feeling a need to truly accept that we and all of the heavenly kingdom are available to you. This is a time when any disbelief about yourself or the Universe can be dispelled. You may sometimes feel that God is too distant from your needs and concerns, or that Divinity is too impersonal or too "busy" to be involved with your simple emotional and physical aches and pains. The immense expanse that is God is aware of the simplest and smallest pain and is always present to you through every prayer and invocation.

Your intuition has guided you to this card because you may need reinforcement in your beliefs about yourself or others you love. Or you may feel lost or still be grieving the loss of someone you've loved who has moved on into spirit. And although you believe that the person goes on to greater joy and happiness, you feel left behind and lonely. Or you may feel rejected by others or by life, frustrated in your ability to understand your choices for the future, confused or ambivalent about which choices you should take. Or you may want only to share your joy and appreciation for the blessings in your life and to further deepen your ability to enter a sacred space in which God lives.

You are entering this sacred space of inner knowing in which the Universe is available to show you, intuit to you, open and make obvious for you, an aspect of its immortal presence that will help you in some true and lasting way.

SPIRITUAL OPPORTUNITY

The guidance to you through this extraordinary flower image is symbolically to release your fears, because all is held in eternal love, and there is nothing to be afraid of. The golden center of the flower is symbolically your natural ability to heal and expand in love. The illuminating white petals radiate out, speaking to you of the many lifetimes that you've lived and will continue to live.

You are guided to take a moment and reflect on the great expanse of opportunities that you hold because of your divine connection. You are capable of experiencing God's love as never before. You are guided to merely accept love into your life and to realize the compassion that moves with you through every life experience and challenge. You are asked to accept that you are blessed.

APPLICATION

Live the next several days as if they were a walking meditation. While you perform your normal chores and go to work or interact with others, look into the eyes of your family, friends, and colleagues. Silently bless their lives and their initiatives. Be observant and appreciative of the flowers, plants, trees, and animals that you see. Honor their presence. Speak to them, and tell them you appreciate their lives and their contributions to the Earth. Ask their help in healing the Earth. Intentionally give the planet only love, to the best of your ability, and keep from killing anything, even the smallest insect. Place your feet carefully on the Earth.

Take time to write down the feelings you experience during these next few days. Because you will be in a mildly altered state of consciousness, you will be able to perceive events and emotions with much greater clarity and perspective.
