Healing

PRESENT CHALLENGE

Awakening to the healer within you.

You have drawn this card of Healing because you are being awakened to the healer within you wanting and needing to emerge.

You may be hearing the Earth's spirit calling you or feeling that you hear ringing in your ears humanity's hunger to find peace. Your own spirit's compassion may be calling you to participate in this time of planetary change, and it is essential to your own healing that you heed this call.

Your guidance is to believe in your own emerging feelings and capabilities and to accept that the future you want will emerge only as you see the ways in which you are already doing your healing work. You are asked to take heart and to believe in yourself as a healer with the God-given capacity to engage your eyes, your hands, and your heart to be of service.

ANGELIC MESSAGE

Healing

Healing means more than reaching out and touching someone, although this act does produce physical and emotional healing.

Healing is the process of revitalizing yourself and other living things through divine love. When you seek to heal yourself you are really asking to become aware of the influence you exert on others and they on you and your life.

The path of the spiritual searcher, which is to be a healer in some form, is first to experience personally the mystical opening to God and then to allow this wisdom to flow out into the world as a healing agent. Because you are already experiencing God in some way, you are seeking to allow your healing potential to become known to others in order to use your ability to improve conditions on or within the Earth. We, your angelic teachers, understand this natural spiritual progression and are helping you awaken and enhance your own unconditional love in order to become the planetary citizen you wish to be.

Love is the energy of the Divine. Whenever it is invoked or even allowed to be drawn into your relationships, both people and other living things benefit. Whenever you contribute love to any situation or relationship, you are not only healing yourself and others involved in the immediate conversation, you are contributing to your planet a lasting effect of love and sustained peace.

Love is the common denominator of all living experiences. When you apply love without judgement or expectation, you always produce a healing result. Whenever you place your hands, actually or symbolically, on another living thing, for example, a healing is forthcoming in the most appropriate way. As you awaken your love as a planetary being, you will feel increasing passion to alleviate the plight of other living things. This is good, and it will ultimately be the means of healing Earth.

SPIRITUAL OPPORTUNITY

The guidance available to you through this flower image is to recognize the essential center of your life—your spirit and its ability to offer unconditional love and acceptance to yourself and all other living things. Notice the center of this flower and its brilliance, which represents the universal essence or core of all life. Your life, like this flower, has an essential center. Through awareness of your spiritual core, you are able to draw divine realization into every aspect of your life to benefit all life.

You are being guided to realize that even though you may be experiencing “roadblocks” or “caution signs” in the pursuit of your work as a healing agent, you are being asked only to believe enough in yourself and your connection to the Divine through love to see that you are already doing, in some small way, the important work that you hope to expand. Rather than believing that your opportunities lie in the future, dependent upon other people or circumstances, accept that you are meant to do this work now and are in fact working for planetary well-being at this very moment. Bring the force of your healing capability, your passion, and your skill to bear on those people and circumstances presently in your life. In this way the people, finances, and opportunities you need will find you.

APPLICATION

Close your eyes and imagine that your spirit is a brilliant white star, just like the center of the flower image on this card. Now, in your mind's eye, place this white star on any part of your physical body or any part of the physical Earth that needs healing. Imagine that this perfect reflection of divine love is pulsating with love, pumping it into that organ or into that country or into that hurting place on the Earth.

Imagery is effective in moving the energy of love to various needed locations. You can perform this exercise any time you see something or someone who needs help. Call up this image of divine perfection and unconditional love to support your healing efforts.
