

A REFLECTION CARD

Love

PRESENT CHALLENGE

Seeking clarity through spiritual awareness.

You have drawn this card of Love to help you make important decisions for your life, create clarity out of confusion, and move through ambivalence and daily struggle.

You may feel that the choices you are being asked to make seem too hard and the solutions too obscure. You may feel unprepared to do what life seems to be leading you toward and that the problems you face are too complex to even solve and/or that depression and unsettledness are becoming too-familiar emotional and spiritual companions. All these feelings may also be mixed with a sense of impatience, an impression that you are ready to create the life you want but that the means of achieving or uncovering this new direction seem obscured.

ANGELIC MESSAGE

Love

We are calling to you to sort through your life and to find new or more meaningful means of nurturing yourself, surrounding yourself with people who love and respect you. Seeking spiritual awareness, the emergence of love within, is a hollow enterprise unless you can see each and every thought and action as contributing to the transformation of life already underway within you. Your true potential and power through love are mere shadows unless you recognize that love is the process that, used daily, will draw the right people and the most beneficial opportunities into your life.

Loving yourself and finding goodness in others will help you achieve specific goals. You are being encouraged to expect love in your life and in all your relationships as the means through which you will learn the easiest.

Love in your heart will help you assess those tasks that you truly want to perform and that will bring you meaningful and purposeful growth. Your life is leading you toward a deeper connection with the divine Source, and all those daily practices that encourage this deeper penetration of the divine Essence will be encouraged.

Assume that you are journeying toward enlightenment and that you are seeking to expand your spirit and your access to the dimension of divine Love that heals. You are being guided to breathe into and breathe through each problem, accepting the truth that you are learning the means to discriminate between those people and means of living that support your enlightenment and those that represent only detours. You are learning the means to separate truth from illusion in your life and in your expectations. Move out of unnecessary action and busy-ness. Find opportunities for quiet times, and reflect on the profound life changes underway in your life.

You are loved more than you can imagine, and we the angels of all life are emerging into your presence so that you can draw from our love and re-merge with the essence of God from which you originated.

SPIRITUAL OPPORTUNITY

The flower displayed to you on this card, a luscious, fuchsia-colored blossom, is fully present to its inner cycles. The guidance that comes to you through this image is to become equally cognizant of your inner being and more fully available emotionally and spiritually to the learning inherent in each day.

You have drawn this card because you are ready to accept that you no longer need to be, or feel, overwhelmed by life's demands or by the lack of clear direction or focus for your future. You are in a spiritual clarification phase, and you are being called to accept that at this time your future is unfolding spiritually more than intellectually.

With this card you are being guided to have more faith in your intuitive choices and unexpressed initiatives. Like the yet-unopened bud in the center of this flower, with its surrounding dark definition, you are seeking to realize your emerging potential. You are coming back into love with yourself so that you can be with others in ways that are more supportive and comforting and so that you can expect the same from others. Try to be patient with yourself and realize that your present circumstances are important steppingstones on your spiritual journey.

APPLICATION

This is a time when many small and insignificant chores and commitments will seem to eat into the time you want to spend with your partner, children, or close friends. Learn that you are not required to be all things to all people. You are within the energy flow of love that says you can love others enough to say "no." You do have sufficient time to accomplish essential tasks if you allow others to share in the creation and implementation of plans. You can attract the financial resources you need as you realize that love is energy and it promotes a natural state of abundance and well-being. You can use acceptance of yourself as the means to awaken love and the meaningful guidance that can bring you greater comfort and solace.
